Hi John,

Here are some photos of work that was done on the subject property. The work depicted was done at around the same time as the drainage tile installation in 2012. The driveway to the property, which cuts through wetland, was reconfigured, widened, and raised considerably (as viewable on imagery).

Unfortunately, there is no EXIF data in these images to determine exactly when the photos were taken but I can work to get that, if necessary.

Thanks.
